

ANOTHER ENGLAND IS POSSIBLE

At the 2021 Unite conference in Liverpool, general secretary, Sharon Graham, said that "Our political class has failed working people and our system is broken. It is time to change our democracy."

COMMONWEALTH OF ENGLAND

In 1647 the Levellers believed that another England was possible and made their case in the Putney debates. In January 1649 the English parliament declared England was now a republic or commonwealth. In May 1649 the dream of another England was destroyed with the defeat of the Leveller soldiers at Burford.

FOR A PARLIAMENT FOR ENGLAND

Today 'Another England' is necessary in the fight against Tory Britain. The working class movement must take the first steps by supporting the demand for an English parliament that Tony Benn included in his 1992 Commonwealth Bill.
